For Immediate Release

World Affairs Council of Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky hosts Annual Meeting

January 11, 2018
Graydon Head, Scripps Center
Walnut St. #1800
Cincinnati, OH 45202

This event is open to the public and has no cost. Refreshments and desserts will be available to all guests.

Join the Council in celebrating 2017 and learning what 2018 has in store. This year the Council has received a numerous amount of support as they went through a rebranding process. This transformation has allowed the local nonprofit to tell their story and start off 2018 with a clear mission to be the leader in preparing Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky communities, individually and collectively, to thrive in the 21st century by promoting international understanding, education, engagement, and cooperation.

The Council will be reviewing their 2017 achievements, conducting board member renewals, and revealing 2018 goals and initiatives.

As a nonprofit organization, the Council is the primary resource in the region for connecting businesses, professionals, students, and the media with a richer understanding of global resources in our community. Through the International Visitors Leadership Program (IVLP), WAC has hosted 349 visitors from 79 countries through 41 international delegations this year.

###

The World Affairs Council of Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky is a 501c3 nonprofit organization established in 1923 with the goals of educating and connecting the city to the larger, global community. Now located on the campus of Northern Kentucky University, we have extended our outreach to the Northern Kentucky community. Through our website, GlobalCincinnati.org we are a resource for citizens in Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky to connect and engage with the global community that exists on a local level.
